Join us as we present two great 20th century works for chorus and organ—Maurice Duruflé’s beloved Requiem and Belgian composer Joseph Jongen’s passionate Mass.

Joseph Jongen (1873-1953)

Considered Belgium’s greatest composer after César Franck, Joseph Jongen was born in Liège, Belgium, in 1873. A composer, organist and pianist Joseph Jongen began his musical studies at the Liège Conservatory at age seven. His early training as a boy chorister in Liège, especially as a treble soloist, inspired him to compose. He created his first Latin choral compositions when he was 14, and by the time he was 26, he had composed 38 motets alone. He studied composition with Jean-Théodore Radoux. In 1892, he studied organ with Charles-Marie Danneels, also gaining fame as a gifted organist and winning an 1896 organ competition prize. Word of this talented composer spread, and he won both Belgian and international prizes, such as the 1897 Prix de Rome. In 1891, he became organist at the Grand Séminar in Liège and resigned in 1894 to become organist at St. Jacques, Liège. Between 1898 and 1902, Jongen toured Europe, meeting such composers as Richard Strauss and Max Bruch in Berlin, and Gabriel Fauré, Vincent d’Indy and Charles Bordes in Paris. He studied composition briefly with Strauss. At the end of 1902, he returned to Belgium, teaching at the Scola Musicae and at the Liège Conservatory, where in 1911 he became Professor of Harmony. In 1914, at the outbreak of World War I, he and his family fled to England, residing at different times in London and in Bournemouth. He continued his career as a performer in ensembles and as well as soloist on the organ and piano. He created the Belgian Quartet, a piano quartet, which performed frequently. He also continued composing, giving English premiers of several works.

After World War I, Jongen returned to Belgium. In 1920, he was appointed Professor of Counterpoint and Fugue at the Brussels Conservatory. In 1925, he became the Director of the Conservatory, where he served as the conductor of several Brussels’ concert series, as well as harmony tutor to Princess Marie José. In 1939, he retired as Professor of Music, but he continued to compose until his death in 1953. Although his main interest was instrumental and chamber music, after his retirement he renewed a special interest in composing choral music. Almost all of Jongen’s works were composed for specific occasions.

Jongen is known chiefly for his fine organ compositions, although he also composed an opera, a ballet, overtures, a symphony, symphonic poems, secular and sacred choral music, concerti for various instruments, string quartets, other chamber music, works for various solo instruments, and works for both piano and organ. His musical style is a blend of neoclassicism and modern.

Mass, Op. 130

Jongen’s Mass was inspired and encouraged by his friend, Georges Alexis, a wealthy amateur musician who had been one of his classmates at the Liège Conservatory. The Mass was composed between July 9 and August 16, 1945, and dedicated to the memory of his closest brother, Alphonse Jongen, a canon at Liège Cathedral. Alphonse died in May 1943 after an operation, and, being deeply affected, Jongen lost faith in his ability to compose. Jongen’s son, Jacques, persuaded him to continue. He worked on a piano concerto that received its premiere in January 1944. In April 1944, Jongen received word that Jacques had been arrested by the Gestapo and sent to Buchenwald. Jongen was bereft. He states in his memoirs that he was incapable of doing anything. He thought of 1944 as a year of death. He wrote nothing between August 1944 and March 1945. Georges Alexis kept encouraging him to compose. Alexis wanted him to compose a Mass to celebrate the 700th anniversary of the Corpus Christi Festival at St.-Martin, Liège, which was to take place in 1946. He kept writing encouraging letters to Jongen, but Jongen did not have the will or energy to create. In December 1944, World War II fighting interrupted communication between Alexis and Jongen for several weeks. Even after their correspondence resumed, Jongen was unable to compose, putting down his thoughts in his memoirs. In March 1945, the Allies appeared to be gaining. John Scott Whiteley writes that “the tone [of the memoirs] changes dramatically at the end of March 1945: ‘Jacques was in Buchenwald… Suddenly…we learnt that he was in Weimar and was soon to be liberated by the Americans--- WHAT A RESURRECTION! It was then that I began to write the Mass.’ So it was that Jongen began to compose this complex work in a state of relief…”

Joseph Jongen composed two versions of his Mass—one for chorus and organ, and one rearranged for chorus, organ, and brass. The San Francisco Lyric Chorus sings the version for chorus and organ.

The Mass’ passionate compositional fervor is reminiscent of works by Louis Vierne and the French impressionist composers. Because of his tremendous understanding of the organ, Jongen is able to combine seamlessly his writing for chorus and the instrument. The choral parts of the Mass reach exalting heights of great strength and power, such as in the Gloria, Credo, and Sanctus, often breaking into eight parts, with an organ accompaniment of ferocious complexity. The work also is thoughtful and pensive, as in the Kyrie and Agnus Dei. First performed on June 23, 1946, the Mass was performed infrequently in the 1940s. It lay unpublished and dormant until 1985, when it was performed by the Brussels Choral Society, conducted by Tom Cunningham. It finally was published in 1990.

And I believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ,
The only begotten Son of God,
Born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light,
True God from true God.

By whom all things were made.
Who for us and for our salvation
came down from heaven.

And was incarnate by the Holy Spirit of the Virgin Mary.
And was made man.

Crucified also for us under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered, and was buried.

And on the third day he rose again,
according to the Scriptures.

He ascended into heaven and he sits at the right hand of the Father.
He shall come again with glory
to judge the living and the dead;
and of his kingdom there will be no end.

And I believe in the Holy Spirit,

who proceeds from the Father and the Son who together with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who spoke to us through the Prophets.

And I believe in one, holy, Catholic and Apostolic Church.

Maurice Duruflé (1902-1986)

Born in Louviers, composer and organist Maurice Duruflé received his early musical education in the choir school at the Cathedral of Rouen, entering as a choirboy when he was ten. He studied piano and organ with Jules Haelling and occasionally substituted for Haelling at Rouen Cathedral. His daily routine included studying Gregorian chant, which became the primary structural element in his compositions. In 1920, noted organist and composer Charles Tournemire arranged for his admission to the Paris Conservatoire, where he studied organ with Tournemire, Louis Vierne and Eugène Gigout, harmony with Jean Gallon, fugue with Georges Caussade, accompaniment with Cesar Abel Estyle, and composition with Paul Dukas. Composer Olivier Messiaen was one of his classmates. Duruflé went on to become an outstanding student, winning first prize in organ (1922), harmony (1924), fugue (1924), accompaniment (1926), and composition (1928). He also became a renowned organist and harmony teacher. In 1920, he was appointed assistant to Tournemire at St. Clothilde, a temporary position. In 1927, he became assistant to Vierne at Notre-Dame, also a temporary position. In 1930, he was appointed organist at St. Etienne-du-Mont, where he remained for the rest of his life. From 1943 to 1970, he was Professor of Harmony at the Paris Conservatoire.

Duruflé toured Europe, the United States and the Soviet Union as a concert organist and was in great demand as an orchestral organist. Dennis Keene comments that he “was considered the orchestral organist par excellence”. In 1939, he gave the world premiere of Poulenc’s organ concerto and even worked with Poulenc on the registrations.

In 1953, Duruflé married his student, Marie-Madeleine Chevalier who was 20 years younger. International recital tours made them both the toast of the organ world until 1975, when they were seriously injured in an automobile accident in the south of France. Madame Duruflé eventually recovered sufficiently to perform again, but Maurice could no longer perform, and rarely left his apartment after that time. He died in 1986.

Duruflé published only thirteen works, among them his beautiful Requiem, the Messe Cum Jubilo and the Quatre Motets sur des Thèmes Grégoriens. Self-criticism, excessive revisions and the disappointment of being considered a conservative in a time when music was being expressed in diverse and dramatic ways, may have reduced his output.

Duruflé Requiem

The Requiem began as a set of organ pieces based on the Gregorian chants used in the Mass for the Dead. Duruflé had already sketched out his organ suite, when he received a commission from his publisher, Durand, to write a Requiem. Encouraged by Durand and organist Marcel Dupré, Duruflé used those sketches as the basis for this serene composition. This work, a memorial to Duruflé’s father, is influenced by his study of Ravel, Debussy, Dukas and especially the Fauré Requiem, to which it pays homage. Dennis Shrock comments, “The overall structure and scoring of the work are based on Fauré’s Requiem: Duruflé chose exactly the same movements and put them in the same order except for the addition of Lux aeterna between the Agnus Dei and Libera me…” Duruflé emphasizes the tranquility, rest, and peace of the Fauré, rather than the thunder and grief of Verdi and Berlioz’ tempestuous and dramatic works. Originally performed in 1947, Duruflé’s Requiem was first scored for orchestra and organ, then orchestra alone, then organ alone, which is the version we are performing today. Duruflé wrote, “This Requiem is entirely composed on the Gregorian themes of the Mass for the Dead… (It) is not an ethereal work which sings detached from worldly anxiety. It reflects, in the unchangeable form of the Christian prayer, the anguish of man facing the mystery of his last ending…”

Domine Jesu Christe

Lord, Jesus Christ, King of Glory, deliver the souls of all the faithful departed from infernal suffering and from the bottomless abyss; deliver them from the lion’s mouth, that hell engulf them not, that they sink not into darkness.
Sed signifer sanctus Michael repraesentet eas in lucem sanctam: Quam olim Abrahae

Fac eas Domine de morte transire ad vitam.

dona eis requiem.
Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccata mundi,

Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccata mundi,

Lux aeterna
Lux aeterna luceat eis, Domine, cum sanctis tuis in aeternum, quia pius es.
Requiem aeternam dona eis, Domine; et lux perpetua luceat eis. Quia pius es.

Libera me
Libera me, Domine, de morte aeterna,
in die illa tremenda,
quando coeli movendi sunt et terra.
Dum veneris judicare saeculum per ignem.
Tremens factus sum ego et timeo,
dum discussio venerit atque Ventura ira.

Dies irae, dies illa, calamitatis et miseriae,
dies magna et amara valde.
Dum veneris judicare saeculum per ignem.

But let the standard-bearer Saint Michael lead them quickly into the holy light, as of old Thou didst promise to Abraham and his seed.
Sacrifices and prayers of praise we offer to Thee, O Lord; accept them for those souls of whom we this day commemorate; cause them, O Lord, to pass from death to life.

Sanctus
Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of Hosts.
Heaven and earth are full of Thy glory.
Hosanna in the highest.
Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.

Pie Jesu
Blessed Jesus, O Lord, grant them rest. Grant them rest everlasting.

Agnus Dei
Lamb of God, who takest away the sins of the world, grant them rest everlasting.
Lamb of God, who takest away the sins of the world, grant them rest everlasting.
Lamb of God, who takest away the sins of the world, grant them eternal rest.

Lux Aeterna
May light eternal shine upon them, O Lord, with Thy saints in eternity, because Thou art merciful. Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord; and may perpetual light shine upon them, for thou art gracious.

Libera Me
Deliver me, O Lord, from eternal death upon that terrible day: When the heavens and earth shall be moved: When Thou shalt come to judge the world by fire.
Trembling has laid hold of me, and I will fear until the judgement shall have come and the wrath will have been. When the heavens and earth shall be moved.

That day, day of wrath, of disaster and misery, a great and exceedingly bitter day. When Thou shalt come to judge the world by fire.
Requiem aeternam dona eis, Domine: et lux perpetua luceat eis.

In Paradisum

In paradisum deducant te Angeli; in tuo adventu suscipiant te martyres, et perducant te in civitatem sanctam Jerusalem. Chorus angelorum te suscipiat, et cum Lazaro quondam paupere aeternam habeas requiem.

Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and may perpetual light shine upon them.

In Paradisum

May the angels lead thee into Paradise; may the martyrs receive thee at thy coming and lead thee into the holy city of Jerusalem. May the choir of angels receive thee, and with Lazarus, who once was poor, mayest thou have eternal rest.

The San Francisco Lyric Chorus is chartered by the State of California as a non-profit corporation and approved by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service as a 501c(3) organization. Donations are tax-deductible as charitable donations.

The San Francisco Lyric Chorus is a completely self-supporting independent organization, with a budget of about $50,000 per year. Chorus members pay dues of $120 for each four-month concert season, providing about a quarter of our income. Ticket sales account for another quarter. But half of our income comes from donations made by chorus members and by friends and supporters like those of you attending this concert.

Monetary gifts of any amount are therefore most welcome. All contributors will be acknowledged in our concert programs. For further information, e-mail info@sflc.org or call (415) 721-4077. Donations also may be mailed to the following address: Treasurer, San Francisco Lyric Chorus, 1650 Spruce St., Berkeley, CA 94709.

Adopt-a-Singer

For as little as $30, you can support the San Francisco Lyric Chorus by “adopting” your favorite singer. For $100 or more, you can sponsor an entire section (soprano, alto, tenor, or bass!) For $150 or more, you can adopt our fabulous Music Director, Robert Gurney.

Sponsor a Musician

Our performances often require us to hire professional singers as soloists, as well as other professional musicians. You may sponsor our engagement of such musicians for a special donation of $400.

What a wonderful summer this has been! Thank you to all our Lyric Choristers for their diligent and hard work in bringing two marvelous choral compositions to the public! We are able to share Maurice Duruflé’s beloved Requiem, as well as bring to public attention the dynamic and dramatic Mass by Belgian composer Joseph Jongen. In today’s vernacular, “Lyric Choristers, you rock!”

Our chorus wouldn’t be what it is without our wonderful and inspiring Music Director, Robert Gurney. Thank you, Robert, for your passionate devotion to music, and your sensitive and skillful teaching and conducting. You challenge us to be the very best we can be, so that we can share wonderful music with our community.

Thank you, Bill for everything. You are bedrock, a foundation that helps the SFLC be the very best it can be. Thank you for all that you do for the chorus. You make an incredible difference!

We couldn’t do what we do without the wonderful support, ideas, and work of our Board of Directors. We are so grateful to have such a dedicated group of volunteers, willing to share their time, knowledge, and expertise so that we can bring wonderful choral music programs to our audiences.

Thank you also to our dedicated fabulous Section Representatives. They are our eyes and ears, working with their sections and our Music Director to create beautiful music.

Thank you to our wonderful donors and contributors and our marvelous audiences, who make our concerts possible. We appreciate your confidence in us and in our music, and we look forward to sharing exciting music with you in the future.

Thank you to our valiant volunteers, who generously give of their time to help with our chorus tasks. All the work that you do makes a difference.

Thank you all for making the San Francisco Lyric Chorus the very special organization that it is.
